A Day at the Science Museum

Last Thursday, Class 6b visited the Science Museum in Stuttgart. The students travelled by train and arrived at the museum at 10 a.m.

The museum was full of interesting exhibitions about space, technology, and nature. Many students enjoyed the space section because they could learn about planets and astronauts. They also watched a short film about life on the International Space Station.

After lunch, the class took part in a workshop where they built small robots. Some robots moved very quickly, while others did not work at all. The students had a lot of fun and learned many new things.

At 3 p.m., the class returned to school. Most students agreed that the museum trip was one of the best school activities of the year.

Answer the questions.

1. Where did Class 6b go?
2. How did they travel there?
3. Which section did many students enjoy most?
4. What film did they watch?
5. What did they build in the workshop?
6. Why was the trip successful?
